

Craig Sim Webb – Experience with Children and Teens

The non-profit DREAMS Foundation, 1996 to date, Executive Director, Presenter, Animator

Offer training programs about the practical benefits of remembering, understanding and enacting dreams, as well as empathic and empowered communication skills for all ages, including high schools.

John Rennie High School, 2011, 2018, Performer, Tutor

Created & performed music at an environmental awareness teen program, and served as a science tutor.

Adventures in Science, 1992 to date, Owner/Instructor

Science, perception, and ecology presentations, after-school courses, and shows for special events.

Lucid Adventures, 1994 to date, Owner, Guide and Instructor

Organized outdoor vision quests and canoe-camping wilderness retreats.

Rougemont Organic Farm, 1997, Ecological Farm Tour Guide and Lifeguard

Led thousands of children from many schools on educational tours of one of Quebec's six organic farms.

Soapstone Crafts, 1997, Instructor — Taught lunch-hour and after-school courses in soapstone carving.

Hidden Villa Ranch, 1994, Farm and Wilderness Tour Guide

Instructed groups of youngsters around the farm and led nature hikes.

The Lucidity Institute (Stanford, CA), 1993-95, Inventor, Public Relations Coordinator

Designed device & co-led trainings for personal development. Coordinated dozens of media interviews.

Montreal YMCA, 1993, Children's Computer Instructor

Taught grade-school children how to use and program computers.

JPdL Multimanagement, Inc., Part-time 1989-93, Public Relations Staff

Worked as a youth program supervisor, and in various public relations positions at international conventions, including team supervisor and event coordinator.

YMCA (Montreal), winter 1992, Computer Science Instructor

Instructed various classes of youngsters how to use computers and write simple programs.

Mad Science, 1991-92, Elementary science teacher and course developer

Taught after-school science programs in elementary schools, and developed new science classes for the company's future courses, which have now become a widely recognized brand internationally.

Canadian Wilderness Trips, Summers 1990-91 and 1998, Canoe trip guide and Animator

Led numerous flat and white water paddling expeditions for outdoors enthusiasts of all ages.

Reporter, The Gazette, News & Chronicle, etc., 1985-92, Freelance Human Interest & Travel Writer

Wrote for The Gazette (Montreal's largest daily) and The News & Chronicle (Montreal West Island weekly), including stories about outstanding children, travel cover features, and a cover page feature.

Canada World Youth, 1990, Third-world development volunteer

Lived six months in a small community in Ecuador, organizing, budgeting, and managing a number of community-improvement work projects including construction of a play park for a local school.

Montreal Children's Hospital, Montreal Neurological Institute, Suicide Action Montreal, 1986-90

Served as a volunteer helping children, teens, and adults with health, mental, and emotional challenges.

Cote Vertu Shopping Plaza, Christmas season '89 – Played Santa Claus at Cote Vertu shopping plaza.

Camp Schodack, Summer 1989, Group Leader

Managed 20 boys and a team of counselors at a summer camp.

The City of Beaconsfield, Part-time 1989, Swim Instructor and Lifeguard

Taught swimming and safety to adults and children, as well as served as a lifeguard for the pool.

The Hollows Camp, Inc., Summers 1987 and 1988, Senior waterfront staff, trip guide

Lifeguarded and taught Red Cross swimming, swim team, kayaking, wind surfing and led canoe trips

John Abbott College, Winter 1985-86, Assistant swim team coach

Supervised swim practices, competitions and away-trips for college students.